Applications for mortgages must be made in writing, specifying the property offered, accompanied by the title deeds, the receipts of the Contribucion Directa tax, and setting forth that the property is free from all incumbrance, or if not the incumbrance that exists thereon, and which is to be paid off by the mortgage. The Secretary of the bank will supply applicants with the forms necessary as also the tables for amortization.

Quarterly mortgagors shall pay from 8th to 15th of each January, April, July and October, and half yearly mortgagors shall pay between the 8th and 15th of each January and July.

With the amortization fund, mortgage certificates (cedulas) shall be redeemed at par by quarterly and half yearly drawings.

The mortgage Bank pays the interest on the quarterly cedulas or mortgage certificates between the 31st December and 6th January, the 31st March and 6th April, the 30th June and 6th July, the 30th September and 6th October every year, and on the half yearly cedulas from the 31st December to 6th January, and from 30th June to 8th July.

The Mortgage Bank can act between the capitalist and mortgagor, free of charge in the way of realising the cedulas, and for this purpose will receive deposits without interest, which will receive a preference, and which sums will be deposited in the Provincial Bank.

On and after the 15th February 1872 the Mortgage Bank will be open to the public.

Secretary.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

A DISEASE WITH A HUNDRED SYMPTOMS.—Such is dyspepsia. It may be said to simulate almost every other complaint. Hot flushes and violent palpitations of the heart, which seem to indicate serious difficulty in the vital organs, are often caused solely by indigestion. A single dose of Bristol's Sugar-coated Pills will in that case be sure to afford relief. In fact they are always a safe and useful medicine, as they tend to reduce febrile action of every kind, without weakening the bodily powers. In all ailments the stomach, the liver are more or less affected, either sympathetically or directly, and upon these organs the Pills operate most beneficially. cj—o10

Mr. WILCKEN'S REPORT.

NEW IMMIGRANTS' ASYLUM.

Few cities in the world will be able to boast a finer Immigrant's Home than the one we are about to erect in B. Ayres. The site has been granted by the Provincial Government, an area of 4 acres near the Retiro railway station, and Congress has voted a part of the funds necessary for the building.

The exterior will be something like the Retiro barrack, with a front of 400 feet, the portico being surmounted by the arms of the Republic, and a spacious hall opening into a court-yard that will divide the building into two blocks, each covering an acre of ground.

Messrs. Lindmark and Montenack's plans, in May 1873, were on an estimated cost of £30,000 sterling, providing ample accommodation for 500 men and 300 women, with every regard for health and comfort. The ground being low it is proposed to raise it by an embankment of 5 feet to the level of the Northern Railway, with a terrace 33 feet broad along the whole length of the building.

The entrance-hall, 33 feet wide, will have on the right the Manager's public and private apartments and those of his clerks; on the left the Employment Bureau 50 x 50 feet, behind which are the Committee rooms.

The central court-yard, 180x100 ft., or nearly half an acre in extent, will serve at the same time as a recreation ground and dining-saloon, the tables to be moved under the corridor when the weather requires it; they will be in two rows at either end of the court-yard, with a tramway connecting with the kitchen, for easier moving the dishes. The corridor at each end of the court-yard will be 15 feet wide and 90 feet long, affording shelter from rain or sun.

The dormitories will be 19 in number, each 40x40 ft.; nine in the north quadrangle, six in the south, forming the outer line of the building, and four in the centre; each dormitory to have about 40 beds. The lavatory in each quadrangle will form the centre of a smaller court-yard. The kitchen will have 2000 feet superficial area, with pantry and offices attached. The fourth side of the great court-yard to be made up of two large warehouses for luggage, bath-houses, a place for washing clothes, water-closets etc. etc. Every provision has been made for underground drainage.

Two-thirds of the roof will be of slate, the rest azotea. All the floors will be boarded except the kitchen and offices. There will be no fireplaces except in the manager's, clerk's and committee rooms. The total roofing covers 6000 square metres, leaving 3000 for the central court-yard and two smaller ones.

These splendid accommodations are, after all, no greater than we shall soon have reason to require, in view of the rapid increase of emigration from Europe to this country.

There are at present, says Mr. Wilcken, 92 steamers in constant and direct traffic between Europe and Buenos Ayres, to which we have to add a weekly Pacific Company's steamer to Montevideo which brings us Basque immigrants. If we give each steamer 3 trips yearly it makes up 328 arrivals with immigrants, or nearly 1 every day. Only last week we saw 3,000 new comers landed upon our shores.

The number of immigrants in 1872 was 41,002, against 8,253 persons who left for Europe. One-fifth of the arrivals availed themselves of the hospitality of the Asilo, the number being made up thus—

This was just double the number of those assisted the previous year, so that we may have to provide for 20,000 next year, as the total number of arrivals will fall little short of 100,000 souls. Allowing 20,000 arrivals in the Asilo an average of 7 days before getting employment the required accommodation would be for 400 persons, and as the present plans are for double that number it is plain they will suffice until we have 200,000 immigrants yearly, with a proportion of one-fifth requiring shelter.

The classification of nationalities shews that French are increasing more rapidly than any others, being now equal in proportion to Spanish, although formerly much lower—

It is interesting to observe how the Asilo disposed of its refugees last year—

Political and domestic economists might learn a lesson from the expenditure returns of Mr. Cavanillas. The new-comers have plenty of the best meat, bread, vegetables, rice, coffee, tea and sugar; yet the cost of maintenance averages only 12 cents per day, the account standing thus—

The asylum at Rosario received 1004 immigrants, one-half being Italians, at a cost of 18 cents each per day.

| Received in asylum ..... | 39,530 |

It speaks highly for all parties that during these ten years there has never been any disturbance or misconduct on the part of those received into the Asylum, nor any complaint against the officials.

But the Asylum not only shelters new-comers; it also lands them gratis and provides free passages to several by rail or steamer.

The sums expended on Immigration have been as follows—

Being less than 2$ per head on the number of immigrants in that period, 95,565. The budget of 1874 includes 200,000$f. for this service, of which 36,000$f. towards the new Asylum, which will probably take 3 years to build.

There are 12 Emigration agents in Europe at a salary of £360 a year each, but the end in view is quite as much advanced by the system of giving free passages and travelling expenses to Europe to successful colonists. Those given in 1872 were—

We see the result in the number of settlers brought back by the following touters—

Moreover the letters of new settlers to their friends at home powerfully foment immigration, Mr. Wilcken paying the postage on 1439 such letters last year, of which 508 went to Italy, 368 to France, 143 to Switzerland, 110 to Spain, and the rest to various countries.

We make no apology for giving our readers so detailed a review of Mr. Wilcken's pamphlet. It interests everybody to know that immigration is increasing rapidly, but still insufficient to meet all the demands for labor.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Sept. 8, 1873.

The select committee chosen at the last meeting of the shareholders of the Central Argentine Railway has thought it advisable to send some one to Buenos Ayres to make a report on the local management of the line, and on other matters which affect the London directors and officials as much as the officials abroad. You will have heard already that the gentleman appointed for that purpose is Mr. James Simpson, who goes out in this steamer, the Boyne. From Mr. Simpson's professional antecedents he is just the man to introduce light into a question. The complaints of the London shareholders are loud but somewhat inarticulate, and without substance for want of exact information. The quotation in the market of 15½ is of itself sufficient evidence that something is wrong. Formerly the blame was laid on the Argentine Government; that we know to be an error. Since then the Argentine management has laid the blame on the London management. It will be Mr. Simpson's duty to explain to us exactly where the shoe pinches in the Central Argentine, and he will, perhaps, when he is there take a look round on railways on both sides of the River Plate.

The Central Uruguay Railway is beginning to be well looked upon since the appointment of the gentlemen who now form the local committee in Montevideo. It would not be surprising to see the shares take a bound upwards if the share market generally maintains its position. It is unfortunate that the time for renewed business in the market and for launching new schemes is in the coming autumn season, when money always begins to get tighter, and if there is any unusual influence such as the German coinage demand the tightness hardens.

They still talk of again trying to launch the Higueritas Railway scheme, but at present there are difficulties in the way which may at least postpone its appearance till the spring, if not beyond.

We generally understand here that Mr. Nicholas Calvo's trial will not come off as the parties have come to some arrangement; but how a criminal case is to be thus disposed of is not explained.

In the Eco de Ambos Mundos published in London there is appearing a series of articles on the "Ferro Carril de Montevideo a Nueva Palmyra, Higueritas. The articles are written, as you may imagine, with the fluent and experienced pen of Mr. Calvo himself. They are much too long and detailed for me to attempt giving extracts. They may probably serve their purpose; for notwithstanding the decision of the Montevidean law courts in favor of Messrs. Waring Bros., such articles are calculated to damage any financial scheme. Fortunately they are in Spanish, and only the few who are initiated in these mysteries will know anything about them.

People have not yet returned from the moors and sea side.

There is little or nothing doing in the city, but we may soon expect a rise in the Bank rate, as money outside is rather over 3 percent. The irrepressible Germans are again in the market for gold for coinage purposes. The American Exchanges are falling, and the weather during the last fortnight has been very unfavourable to the crops which in the North are still out. We had a great downpour of rain yesterday which may clear the air and give us a few bright days, and prevent the corn market from rising.

"If the cattle dealers and butchers in this country keep their eyes open to the pertinacious attempts which are being made in Australia to solve the great meat difficulty, and supply us with fresh beef and mutton at reasonable prices, they cannot feel otherwise than uncomfortable. Great interest, it seems, is felt in Victoria in an experiment which is now being tried of sending fresh uncooked joints to England preserved by the new freezing process. Fresh meat has already been preserved for some months by this process in Melbourne, and the first shipment is now on its way to London by the clipper ship, Norfolk, which sailed from Melbourne on the 19th of July. The meat thus shipped consists of five tons of beef and fifteen tons of mutton, contained in two tanks, each holding ten tons. It is believed that the meat, on its arrival in London, will turn out as fresh as when it was first frozen. If such is found to be the case the cost of future shipments will be most materially reduced in comparison with that of the present one, in which a good deal of outlay has been incurred that will not be necessary on future occasions. When the trade of exporting the meat by this freezing process is carried on in a regular commercial manner, the cost will be very small, and it is estimated that it will be landed in London at least two pence per pound cheaper than by any other known process of meat preserving. There can be little doubt that, if this experiment proves successful, all the absurd prejudices entertained by many of the poorer classes against Australian preserved meat will be entirely dissipated. They only require to see a few joints, such as they are accustomed to see hanging in the butchers' shop, to be convinced that the meat which comes from the other side of the world really is what it professes to be, and is not the flesh of cats, dogs, or horses—which, by the way, they readily devour in the shape of sausages. At present no doubt the Australian preserved meats have not exactly the flavour of good fresh meat. They need clever cooking; and that is what few English workmen's wives can give them. The joints sent over by the new process will, it is to be hoped, preserve this flavour, along with a delicious tenderness."

The last of the German invaders were to have crossed the French frontier to-day. The only town now occupied is Verdun, and the garrisons which as I said was to have marched homewards to-day will not leave till to-morrow evening for some trifling reason; the telegrams tell us the troops have orders to wait till the money of the last instalment of the indemnity is counted at Berlin. The German occupation of France for so long a time, and with so few quarrels with their excitable foes does more honour to the German name than do the victories gained in the war. The German officers and troops have behaved splendidly in making the occupation as little burdensome as possible to the vanquished. It is doubtful if cantankerous Englishmen would have preserved the same peace even if they had preserved the same discipline. It is melancholy to think that German moral value should be wasted in war, and conquest, for no virtues will save them from French revenge when the chance comes. Fortunately it is not likely to come yet. The insane policy of the ultramontanes in France against Italy has tied her hands. The combination which will make war possible to France cannot at present be guessed at, it looks so remote.

Sr. Castelar appears to be imitating M. Thiers, and has just been voted President of the Cortes, with extraordinary powers. Whether he is the man for the difficult position in which he is placed is doubtful, but he will certainly make a vigorous effort to put down the Royalists of the Carlist branch; but from his appointing Serrano and the Conchas to high commands, men of the old regime, it looks as if he is only preparing the advent of the Alfonsinos. He of course calculates that, after the part Serrano took in the revolution which overthrew Queen Isabella, he has no hopes from that dynasty. The calculation may be correct as far as Serrano is concerned; but the other chiefs who will serve under Serrano and the Conchas are Alfonsinos.

The Archbishop has addressed a remarkable letter to the Roman Catholic Primate of Ireland, on education, in which he favorably compares the moral and material state of Catholic Ireland with Protestant countries, such as England, Scotland and Germany. The whole tendency of the Archbishop's tenets is 'federalist,' if not separatist, although he may not mean so much in his mere denunciations of an 'imperial policy' in matters of religious education.

ROSARIO AND CORDOBA.

October 7th, 1873.

I last took up my pen to write to you on the anniversary of "Santa Rosa," whose near approach I then foretold. Scarcely was the ink on my paper dry when she, with a punctuality deserving of imitation by all her sex, appeared, in the character of "Niobe," and, more in sorrow than in anger, shed her rain-tears upon the thirsty and expectant earth, which sent forth numerous flowers and fragrant plants to welcome the advent of the Saint.

Under such circumstances you may wonder how I tore myself away from a place clothed with verdure, in nature's most beautiful form, where the air was heavy with the perfume of orange and lemon groves; but I am naturally vagrant in disposition, as my name indicates, and although a lover of nature in all its various phases, I like variety; in fact "ich bin ein ächter Wanderbursch," hence I am here.

I left Santa Fe by the zig-zag river, to which it gives its name, resembling in its tortuous course the parallels of approach to a besieged city, and took a 'long-range' view of Parana. I did not go on shore, disliking the smell of powder, and feeling a disinclination to risk being taken for an aider or abettor, on the wrong side, in the game of war.

In due time the combined efforts of propitious winds, the current of the river, and the nominal horse power of the steamer's engines deposited me at Rosario, which had it not been for the President's recent veto I should have been able to call the Washington of the Argentine Republic.

Here let me pause and consider, am I awake, or am I dreaming? What news is this that comes to us as sudden and startling as the lightning's flash? "The steamer Portena seized on her passage from Montevideo to Buenos Ayres."

What! the poor 'scursionists' bound for the Lauus races, landed on a distant shore. They have the satisfaction, however, of saving the money they might otherwise have lost in betting—that is, if their captors did not empty their pockets of the 'pesos duros' for fear they might inconvenience them in landing.

The mole too, mounted with guns to prevent the coming of a hostile force. The wonder is how they ever got the guns past the 'Standard hole.'

But it is ill jesting with such a subject, the other view of it being so very serious.

The blow to National prestige and credit will indeed be great if the immediate measures taken by those in authority do not render impossible the repetition of an act which none of us would have believed practicable till we heard of its accomplishment.

To return to Rosario, although it may seem dull and slow after Buenos Ayres, it is nevertheless a thriving and important place, and its churches, theatres, banks, fine shops, and well paved streets, lit with gas, give the surest indications of its prosperity, to which its port, and the lines of transatlantic steamers which run to and from it, contribute largely.

There are some things in which Rosario sadly needs reforming, for instance, at the present moment, she possesses the most ill ordered troublesome and noisy gang of porters that it has ever been my lot to meet with, in a somewhat varied experience. Again, I think her warriors might, when firing salutes, be prevailed upon to restrict themselves to blank cartridge, and avoid as much as possible, adding their ramrods to the charge by way of 'flappa' for the benefit of the spectators.

There was an Englishman hurt yesterday when passing in front of a file of soldiers 160, firing salutes in the Plaza, but whether by a ramrod or 'wad,' I know not.

What shall I say of Cordova? to which slumbering city I was inveigled in a moment of weakness. Shall I describe its dust? its goats? or its Sierras? The latter are well enough in their way, but they lie too far off for the city to have any claim upon them. On the whole I think I had better not try to describe Cordoba; I may however mention, in passing, that the most striking building in the city is the cathedral, which resembles Melrose Abbey in one respect, that it is seen to best advantage by moonlight, but there the similarity ends.

The Central Argentine Railway Co. are now completing their station buildings, which are of iron both sides and roofs. A little beyond the station is the site of proposed bridge by which the Tucuman Railway, now in process of construction by Messrs. Telfener and Co., is to cross the river. These gentlemen have a large number of sleepers stacked on the ground near where the works commence, and as they have received a first instalment of their rails from England, they have begun to lay them down, the earthworks being already finished for a considerable distance up country, but notwithstanding this display of energy it has failed to galvanize Cordova into active life, and the city remains entranced in a lethargy that "Friedrick Barbarossa," in his cavern of the "Untersberg" might himself have envied.

There are a primitive and patriarchal people in Cordova, and it is a place where money won't get you everything; 'dulce' for breakfast for example. "That's only given in the evening," as I was told, when I tried to induce the waiter to bring me some, wherewith to eke out a rather slender breakfast.

My blarney was thrown away upon him; the fact is the very raw material of which Cordova waiters are made is not susceptible of polish: for after all, blarney is to the individual to whom it is applied what varnish is to wood, bringing out the fine quality and grain, and developing a thousand beauties of character which had previously been hidden or indistinct.

There is no more use in trying to blarney an unsusceptible subject than in varnishing a piece of wood that's got the "dry-rot", they each absorb the precious substance, and remain as dull as before its application.

There is another point in the social existence, I cannot call it life, of Cordoba to which exception might be taken, that is the objectionable habit of the watchmen to call the wrong hours of the night. It is bad enough when you are sleeping soundly, after the cares and worries of the day, to be awakened in order to be told what the hour is; but it becomes unnecessary cruelty when the information vouchsafed is incorrect, especially if you are anticipating an early start by the train next morning. Surely there is less excuse for this than formerly, now that Cordova can boast of her Observatory, and the exact longitude has been ascertained, and correct time established. Could'nt Dr. Gould devise some method of regulating, with approximate accuracy, the watchmens' rattles, or whatever else it is that periodically arouses them from their intermittent slumbers on the door steps.

Under present circumstances it is most distressing to persons with well regulated minds and watches, accustomed to precision in matters affecting time, to be disturbed in their sleep by rival watchmen, approaching from opposite directions, and simultaneously calling different hours.

A ROVING IRISHMAN.

EDITORS TABLE.

"Our Own" in London has returned to his post for the winter months, like a giant refreshed, and we publish a Letter from him in another column. He looks on a rise in the rate for money as probable soon.

The splendid steamer Aconcagua of the P.S.N.C. fleet entered Montevideo on Wednesday evening, but as it was a case of "no steamer to-night" down there we are without letters or papers till this morning. The telegraphic advices are from Lisbon to the 17th ult., but contain nothing new, except that it is expected that Castelaar, as President of the Spanish Republic, will go to the wall as well as his predecessors, and the Iberians be left to the Hobson's alternative of Don Carlos, or Don Chaos with a spice of Petroleum. From the rest of the Old Continent the news is negative. Cholera is not worse in Paris; neither is the religions ruction in Germany; the Bank rate is not yet up, and several things have not happened but may any day. Respecting the rate of money in London a leading financial subscriber offered to bet a big sum yesterday that it will be five per cent. before the end of this month. We are strongly inclined to agree with him, and if it prove, so there 'll be a right royal monetary "sauve qui peut" at this side of the Atlantic. We've been going too fast across country for a long time here, and there's a rasping wire fence, with a double ditch and a drop into the road in front of us. Who 'll get safe over?

The Ville de Bahia, which entered port on Wednesday, brought out 104 emigrants. We are coming to look on this number of new arrivals as quite 'small potatoes.' The France brought out 1,200 and the Europa 800. However, scraps are as thankfully received as usual, and will be for a long time to come.

The English Government has issued its report on the home Telegraph service for last year. It reveals a wonderful state of things. The following is a precis of it:—"Some idea of the magnitude of the Government telegraphic operations may be learned from the fact that the number of offices opened last year was 5,400, the number of messages nearly 15,000,000. The press messages have been remarkably developed, the number of words transmitted exceeding 28,000,000, or 7,000,000 more than in 1871. During a single night, when important ministerial statements were made in Parliament, upwards of 200,000 words, or about 100 columns of the Times newspaper, were transmitted from the central station in London for publication in the provincial papers. The total length of the postal telegraph wires at the end of the year was more than 105,000 miles, of which about 5,000 miles were rented by private persons. In 1871 the total mileage was rather less than 88,000. The Post Office has in its service an army of 30,617 persons, not counting 9,391 who are exclusively engaged on duties connected with the telegraph."

The National Bank question is that of the day; Lopez Jordan, the Porteña and the row in Mendoza are all forgotten for the moment in favour of it. No wonder Bobbage discovered that when very big figures are concerned two and two dont make four, but something less. A couple of months ago this National concern came to a halt through having too many subscribers [for all the world like most of our too many newspapers] now it is up the spout for want of capital, though all the shareholders are politely presumed to have paid up. We want Professor O'Donnell to square this funny circle. Meanwhile the price of the shares is at an extremely unpleasant discount; another postponement of the opening day is out of the question, and everyone is asking what's to be done? We defy Tom Walker to tell us.

The city church bells rang out a merry peal on Wednesday evening, in honor of the victory gained over the rebels in Mendoza. Pres. Sarmiento, on hearing that Col. Ivanouski had chawed up the rebels in the space of five minutes after sighting them, made the gallant Pole a General by telegraph, and the distinction was well and gallantly earned. Sherman's famous march to the sea was nothing to Ivanouski's march of 110 leagues in five days. Julius Cæsar's 'veni, vidi, vici' affair with Pharmaces was tame to it; though Segovia, not being an Irishman, showed miserably little pugnacity, riding off like John Gilpin before the first round shot. Capt. O'Connor from Cork wasn't there, or even thereabouts, or he would have put more life and decency into the final scrimmage. In the present state of political affairs, it is a great thing for the Government to have this Mendoza fizzle so summarily disposed of.

An esteemed subscriber at Salto, B.O., sends us the following account of a splendid locomotive blow-out that came off there on Tuesday last. Salto is evidently going ahead:

"Yesterday was a great day here, although but few participated in the joys. The first locomotive for this railway, named the Salto, made her trial trip, and very satisfactorily she did it, although those who took her through got very wet outside; but that mattered but little, as things were made even afterwards. The engine worked smoothly and well, and the road stood as if it had been run over for weeks, showing no sign of settling. After the trial was over and the Salto safely housed, a cold luncheon was served, and champagne and ale set going to counteract the outside dampness of the guests; about twenty sat down, and the company's resident engineer, the popular Mr. Gripper, took the chair, well supported on either side by the district engineers and the staff; at the bottom of the table were the foremen workmen. Everything passed off very well; numerous toasts were drunk with enthusiasm, so that if the first engine goes wrong, it will not be for the want of being well wetted and cheered on the road."

We received a stiff letter yesterday in reference to the British emigrants from Paraguay, now at the Asilo, and their pitiable condition. It is signed by some anonymous "Anglo-Saxon." As it reflects severely on the British merchants and clergymen of all denominations in this city, we must hold it over till Mr. "Anglo-Saxon" favours us with his card, and we enquire further into the subject.

We understand that Mdme. Farnesi, so long and favourably known in connection with the education of young ladies, will open a first class school at Flores on the first of next month. This will supply a want long felt in "the village", where the rising generation of the fair sex is very numerous. The 'locus in quo' is the fine new house with glass mirador, behind the station —magnificent premises for a college. First class teachers have been engaged and others are coming from Europe, so the new school, under Madame Farnesi's able and experienced direction, cannot fail to meet with extensive patronage.

Yesterday was an extremely fine day,—too fine in fact. Hot, North wind, 75Fahrenheit, bright sun, clouds here and there, but a heaviness in the "hatomsphere" that indicated rain, thunder, lightning, and, probably, perpendicular pitchforks, cats and dogs rain before long. The thing most wanting is lightning, and lots of it. A season without lightning is very pernicious in this country.

A colleague, generally well informed, reported yesterday that every soul on board the barque Ferrin, found burned at sea by the Ariadne, had been frizzled up. This is not the case; the crew were saved.

We never saw so many itinerant vendors of everything about the streets of Buenos Ayres as at present. Boots and birds, jars and jewellery, parasols and pannikins, oranges and overalls, apples and aguardiente, fish and flannels, dry, wet, eatable, drinkable, and wearable goods of every description are now to be had from hawkers in the streets. People whose means are limited are prone to patronize these gentry. We advise them at least not to touch the jewellery, even with a tongs; it's all either Abyssinian or stolen.

"If a flute could speak, it would probably say, 'Well I'm blowed.'"

"The latest case of ingratitude is that recorded of a Western editor who returns thanks for a box of strawberries sent to him, and says he will excuse the neglect to furnish sugar.

We hear there is to be another racing tournament at Lanus next week, on the Feast of Saint Theresa, after who the 'circo' has been named. Of course it wont be anything like the display in the beginning of this week, but may attract turfites.

The Colon Theatre was crowded on Wednesday night to witness the third representation of Aida; the opera will be repeated to-night.

All the young girls suitable as servants amongst the Paraguayan immigrants at the Asilo had found places yesterday, except one of 15 years of age. This looks better.

We made a mistake yesterday in stating that Mr. Daws's list of subscriptions to English papers for 1874 will close on the 20th; it wont shut up till the middle of next month.

Three fatal cases of small pox occurred in Rosario on Tuesday, and the Mercurio says the disease is spreading daily. The same paper records a touching elopement case. The flint hearted author of a lovely girl's being wanted to force her to marry a tramway employee ugly as Sin or Satan, and whom she hated. While the 'governor' and her 'maternal' went out for a stroll one evening she feigned a headache. The heavy father locked the street door and put the key in his pocket; but we all know that locks are impotent in presence of Love. While the old couple were enjoying their walk the "right man" turned up with a skeleton key, and carried off the too willing girl. The tramway man's hair has turned white with grief.

We find the following two stories in the Anglo Brazilian Times; the first will interest Dr. Burmeister:—

"The Maranham museum has received two of the bones of an immense serpent, one of the bones being a rib measuring 13 inches, and the other a joint of the spine, so large that the finder had put four legs and used it as a stool. They are said not to belong to a boa but appear to be quite recent, showing no signs of putrefaction. These bones and many others were found at Lagoa do Peixe Boi, in the Upper Mearim. Perhaps this monstrous snake was the great sea serpent, which has disappeared from ken of late years, and may have died during a visit to its piscine relative the ox-fish of the lake."

"At Crato, Ceará, a woman named Anna Soares is reported to be still alive at the age of 134 years, able to walk and take care of herself."

A poor but respectable girl named Adela Sagui, 20 years of age, poisoned herself with strychnine on Wednesday. She had been desponding for years and often threatened to kill herself saying she was "too poor and ugly to live." The unfortunate girl's greatest trial, however, was her want of beauty, and she could not be reasoned out of her distress on this subject.

Mr. Henry Sinclair has been named Contador Mayor by the National Government vice Mr. Daniel Maxwell resigned.

The saladeristas wore beaming faces yesterday in consequence of the Provincial Chambers having resolved to give them compensation for turning them out of Barracas two years ago. The conditions have not yet been published. However, we congratulate the meat boilers; and the Chambers also for doing what is right and fair in the matter.

A colleague says that the Aguirre Loan is certain to be placed in London at from 90 to 95 before the middle of this month. It would be a grand thing for this market if it were, but there's many a slip between a proposed loan and the launching of it.

Amongst the goods and chattels boued by Bergara and his pirates on board the Porteña was a splendid race horse belonging to Mr. Joseph Ramirez, who was bringing him up to run at Lanus. The animal will answer beautifully for Bergara to run away on and with at the same time. One thing is certain, Mr. Ramirez will never lay eyes on him again.

"Irish Gratitude.—In the year 1843, amongst other tenants on the Tyrone estate of the late Right Hon. Edward Litton, who were then assisted to emigrate by that model Irish landlord, there sailed to New York a youth named Patrick M'Eleer. For several years after his departure no intelligence concerning him reached home, and it was supposed he had died. In 1860 it happened, however, that a son of the late Master Litton, then on his travels, came across the former "Irish boy", in the city of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where, by a steady course of selfeducation and prudence, as well as by the exercise of a rare talent for speculation, he had even by that time amassed a considerable fortune, and had purchased lands in Pennsylvania, on which were subsequently discovered coal fields of great value, and, later on, oil-wells of almost inexhaustible depth. Having done good service to the country of his adoption in the great war of secession, Major M'Eleer, being badly wounded at the battle of Gettysburg, retired from active service. Intelligence has just reached his fortunate legatee, the visitor of 1860, that by a will, dated two months before his death, which occurred in May, 1873, this "Irish emigrant" has bequeathed to the son of his former landlord, a junior member of the equity bar in England, the whole of his vast property. To an utter barrister "waiting for business" this example of Irish gratitude must prove as pleasing as it was unexpected."

"The editor of a Fredericksburg (Virginia) paper was asked by a stranger if 'twas possible for that little town to keep up four newspapers, and the reply was, 'No, it takes four papers to keep up the town.'"

A Dublin paper says—"It is definitely announced that the Jesuit Fathers of Dublin have purchased from Mr. Robert Warren Killiney Castle and the grounds adjoining, for the purpose of establishing a lay college to afford the highest class education." This Mr. Warren is brother to the talented author of "Ten Thousand a Year." Who has not split his sides over the antics of that inimitable Cockney creation, Tittlebat Titmouse?

METEOROLOGY IN THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.

The progress of the science of meteorology has of late years been so decided as to warrant the establishment of the extensive systems of storm warnings that are now in operation in every civilized country or the northern hemisphere from India to America. It is therefore with the greatest pleasure that we chronicle the establishment of a National Meteorological Bureau in the Argentine Republic of South America—one that will, it may be hoped, eventually become a telegraphic storm-warning system. A letter of February 4th from Dr. B. A. Gould, a distinguished American astronomer, and now the director of the observatory at Cordoba, gives the following information on this point:—

"Here the meteorology and climatology of the vast tract of country from the tropics to Cape Horn, east of the Andes, has remained until this time almost unknown, notwithstanding the singular and very exceptional character of the atmospheric relations. Although reluctant to spare any time from the astronomical investigations which brought me here, I have been so much impressed with the absolute scientific necessity of a series of meteorological observations in the vast territory of the Argentine Republic that I have procured the passage of a law establishing a National Meteorological Bureau, and have assumed the charge of it until it can be properly organized and confided to other hands. Within a few months I hope to have something like fifteen to twenty observers at work, making three observations daily, and in another year I am not without hopes of having double that number engaged in the work, from the slopes of the Andes and the borders of Bolivia down to the confines of Patagonia. The government has assigned $6500 this year for the purchase and transportation of instruments.... The weather causes us (astronomers) much trouble. This is the ninth consecutive rainy or overclouded day—not sun, moon, nor star having been visible in all that time. And yet before selecting Cordoba as the site of the observatory I had been assured that I might count upon 320 clear nights in the year! But 120 would have been nearer the mark."—Harper's new Monthly Magazine.

ON 'CHANGE.

| Patacons | 25 |

The Bond market rules tolerably firm and closed in the liquidation buyers, cash at 77.

The Cedulas market wears a queer aspect, prices opened this morning stiff, under the pressure of sales fell to 85½, then brightened up to 85⅞ and closed at 85⅝. The cash sales were not heavy, but the speculation for the end of the month continues. Outsiders are selling on time in order to get the best rates, and it was rumoured that a large transaction for the end of the year was done to-day, outside of the Bolsa between principals, at 88.

National Bank Shares were dealt in to-day pretty freely at 90, and it was rumoured at the ring that 100 were sold yesterday afternoon at 88 or 89; if so the price to-day shows a recovery. It appears that to-day or to-morrow the board will finally decide the question. On the very highest authority we hear that the bank opens on 2nd November.

The Olbers took a heavy mail to-day, some $11,600 in sovereigns, some large shipments of Bolivianos by an importing house, and some boxes of gold dust from the far famed Famatina mines. It was said on 'Change, as some brokers saw the boxes going from Messrs. Green Le Rossignol's office, that fully 100,000 sterling went in her, but it is not so. Many of the boxes contained Bolivianos.

Mr. Demarchi took leave of his numerous friends on 'Change to-day. He leaves to-morrow in Gironde for Milan.

The stock sales to-day were as follows—

In the liquidation things ruled very flat.

15,000 for end of month 85 and sellers for cash at ½.

Exchange ruled flat to-day, bills on England at 49½. Some brokers say that something was done at 49¼, but drawers rule, the market and we hear that some drawers terms are cash on Saturday, bills for the packet. It would seem as if all the banks and merchants owe heavy balances in Europe. On Antwerp 5,22, offering on France 5,23—24 drawers. Exchange direct on the States we hear is now done in this market.

All the discount brokers complain of the difficulty about money. None of the private banks discounted yesterday or to-day, and every one seems to think that either the Provincial Bank must emit money or the Government give private banks the right to emit, for the present stringency is as bad as last June.

Some 20,000 pats. were put out on Bonds at 12 per cent. for 60 days, valued at 70.

In National Bank shares the following sales to-day—

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| 250 | shares at | 90 |
| 400 | do | 90 |
| 200 | do | 90 |

Some 300 ounces gold have come down from the Gualilan mines. They go forward in the Boyne.

The Aconcagua has brought nothing very fresh politically, and as regards produce her advices show no change on Boyne's. The Aconcagua, however, brings one thing very forcibly to us all, namely, the miserable steamboat arrangements in Montevideo, for latterly it is the rule whenever the Pacific steamers enter there is no steamer sailing same day for Buenos Ayres; to rid the passengers and the public of this continued nuisance we were given to understand some time ago that the Pacific Company was about to send out a small steamer of its own to be stationed in the River Plate for the exclusive purpose of awaiting the arrival of the weekly Pacific steamer and bringing passengers and mails right up. The sooner Messrs Yarrow Hott and Co. arrange this the better for all parties, and as the number of emigrants their steamers bring out each trip is now very considerable, this new arrangement would prove a direct saving to the company. We look for the Aconcagua's mails in the morning; she does not seem to have called at St. Vincent—possibly the Captain knows nothing whatever about the Minas cable. Even captains sleep at times.

The National Bank question has got into the papers; therefore the shares are down. Some of our colleagues come out very hard on the bank, the subscribers, the founders and the Government. It is really an anomaly that a concern which but a few months ago was brought to a dead lock owing to excessive subscription should be now in a fix through insufficient capital. The share list opened to the public, it is confessed, was all filled 13000 shares: 15 per cent. on these 1,950,000. The founders took five millions firm, on which 15 per cent. would give 750,000. This gives a total of 2,700,000, which leaves a deficit of 300,000 for the required three millions. It is clear therefore that another call must be made, if the 15 per cent. in National Bonds to be paid by the National Government on its two millions be not counted as cash. Another call of 5 per cent. would no doubt require much time to collect, but as the founders of the Bank are all city residents 5 per cent. on their shares would give 250,000 in a day, and certainly the remaining 50,000 pats. could be collected from the subscribers in town. Thus the question is in a nutshell. The founders of the Bank have to take the matter upon their own shoulders and carry it through, and doubtless the men whose names figure on the list as founders are right well able to raise in the market 300,000 pats., no matter what the rate of discount or price of money may be.

Mr. Weldon, Telegraphic Engineer, has arrived down from the distant province of Jujuy, having been actively engaged in laying a telegraph line up the country. He reports the provinces very poor, meat scarce and dear, and in some provinces the people live on algarroba.

Yesterday a very sad affair occurred on board the dredge in port. The Captain, while at dinner on board, had some words with the mate, who then and there shot him in the head. The Captain was brought ashore and taken to the hospital, where the ball was extracted this morning. After the affair the mate called up 4 sailors, ordered out a boat, rowed ashore and has not since been heard of.

It was said on 'Change to-day that one of our city bankers has advices from Loudon to the effect that there is every probability the Bank of England rate will go to 5 per cent before the end of September. Respecting this matter there seems some ground for the supposition, as in the last number of the Economist we find the following—

"We think it is very much to be regretted that the Bank directors delay raising the rate of discount. The rate, we must still think was lowered rather hastily in July and Aug. before a sufficient reserve had been accumulated for times like the present; and now the delay to make an advance, when the market is inclined to firmness, will aggravate the evils of the original error. Two reasons have been added during the week to those which formerly existed for immediately raising the rate. One is a withdrawal of gold from the Bank for shipment to New York.

"The other incident of the week is the revival of a bullion demand for Germany. There has been an unusual mystery about the demand, but there is no real doubt that orders are in the market for bar gold sufficient to absorb all that arrives, the arrivals in sight in September being in truth very small.

"On July 30th, by Messrs. J. Elder and Co., Govan, a screw steamer named the Valparaiso, of 3,700 tons gross, and 500 horse-power nominal, of the following dimensions:—Length over all, 400 feet; breadth 42 feet; depth, 33 feet. This vessel has been built to the order of the Pacific Steam Navigation Co., of Liverpool, and is intended for that company's weekly service between Liverpool and Valparaiso, via Straits of Magellan. When finished, she will have accommodation for 116 first-class, 50 second, and 800 third-class passengers, if required. The engines, which are being supplied by the same firm, are upon the compound principle, having inverted cylinders, direct acting; diameter of cylinders, one, 97 inches, and the other 56 inches; stroke, 4 feet 9 inches."

It looks as if Mr. Manuel Aguirre had better look sharp about his B. Ayres loan, as the following will show the constant applications for money on the London market:—

"The new capital commitments of August have been £31,965,250, of which £2,965,250 were subscribed entirely in Great Britain, and £32,000,000 partly here and partly on the Continent. The actual money payments of the month upon these and previous subscriptions have been £8,831,993, of which £8,726,573 were provided by Great Britain alone, and £5,136,420 partly abroad. During the first eight months of 1873 the subscriptions effected solely in Great Britain have been £59,832,980 sterling (against £64,150,923 in the same months of 1872), and those in which foreign countries have participated have been £46,175,200 (against £56,575,900 in 1872). The money payments during these eight months have been £11,311,781 by Great Britain alone (against £42,137,380 in the same months of 1872), and £21,722,990 (against £33,740,946) provided partly on the Continent. All these figures are exclusive of any payments of the Great French loans. The first large foreign loan of the year has this month made its appearance, in the shape of an Egyptian 7 per cent. issue for £32,000,000 nominal, at 84¼ per (cent. less allowances); but though doubtless its success is secured by the influential channels through which it passed, the British public, for the time at any rate, did not appear to come forward very liberally. Amongst our colonies New Zealand has placed a fresh amount of £500,000 in 5 per cent. Consols; and amongst a less than average number of the more miscellaneous securities offered, scarcely any call for even passing comment. It may, however, be mentioned that two railway issues have been effected, in the shape of the Baltimore and Ohio Railway 6 per cent. Sterling Bonds and the Cornwall Mineral Railways Ordinary Shares."

The Montevidean papers give the following as the cargo on board the Porteña when she started—

Garret Bros, 38 cases matches.
Ballano, 1200 strings bananas.
Morillo, 6 cases dry goods.
Mazzine, 1 do.
Kahl Bros 25 do.
Watson and Co 6 do.
Pombo, 1 do.
Wedekind Fehr, 1 do.
Farriols, 1 do.

The following extract from a London financial journal received per Boyne may interest our Commercial readers, it shows a little how the wind blows in that quarter—

"Argentine of 1868 have declined ½ per cent on an unfounded rumour that Messrs Murietta had received instructions to sell a million of the 1871 loan. The latter has remained steady at 97, consequent on the drawing of £84,000 on the 20th inst. for redemption at par, and the dividend of 3 per cent coming off on the 1st of next month. The Hard Dollar Loan has improved 1 per cent. Brazilian 4½ per cents. have advanced 1, and the 5 per cents ½ per cent. Chilian of 1873 have improved 1 per cent. Costa Rica continue dull, and show a further decline of 1 per cent. Paraguay of 1871 have recovered 1, and of 1872 3 per cent., the accounts from the Republic being more satisfactory, and a tripartite treaty between Brazil, the Argentine Republic and Paraguay being reported to have been signed."

The mails have brought rather unfavorable news from the United States for the Boca Barracas and Ensenada Railway. Owing to a great fire that took place at the Portland Company's locomotive works at Portland, Main, U.S., very valuable property was destroyed, and amongst other things three railway carriages, first class, just built for the Buenos Ayres and Ensenada Port Company, and which were at the moment of the disaster ready for shipment. Measures are being taken here to remedy the loss until other carriages be built, orders for which were promptly sent from London.

Our advices from the Uruguay this morning were favorable. The trial trip of the first locomotive on the Salto Railway has come off and given the most satisfactory results. The works of this line are greatly praised by all who have been up there and seen them.

It was said on 'Change to-day that come what may the National Bank will open on 2nd prox. This is about the right thing to do; whatever may be the deficit let the founders of the concern club together and raise it in the market.

Mr. Charles A. Davis has taken out his diploma as public liquidator and accountant. He is well and favorably known in commercial circles, and we trust will meet with support.

The Boyne is looked for this evening. A small steamer went, as usual, off for the passengers at 4 p.m.

To-day we heard great complaints from the camp about the drought. The season has come in most unfavorably for the sheepfarmer; no rain during the winter, the pasturages all parched up, and in some places they are beginning to remove the flocks. Rain, and heavy and continuous rain, is required before the summer sets in.

After long and innumbrable trials, we have succeeded in preparing the above Sheep-dip, by the use of which we guarantee the thorough eradication of Scab in Sheep.

Besides cheapness and easy application, it has the great advantage over all other similar preparations of being a circumstance which admits of our liquid penetrating to the very surface of the skin, without spotting the wool or making it adhere.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR
Can only be obtained by the use of Rowland's Macassar Oil. It prevents the Hair falling off or turning grey, strengthens weak hair, causes it to grow on bald places, and makes it beautifully soft, pliable, and glossy. Price 3s. 6d., 7s., 10s. 6d. equal to four small, and 21s. per bottle.
IMPORTANT CAUTION.
Ask for Rowland's Macassar Oil, and avoid all other cheap articles under the same or similar names as spurious imitations. Each Bottle has a "Glass Stopper" in place of the Cork, as formerly. All with the 'Cork' are spurious imitations. This notice is deemed necessary, as the Proprietors have received intimation that a large quantity of Counterfeit, of the most pernicious quality, has lately been sent from France and Germany to India, South America, and the Colonies, under their names.
A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION
Is obtained by the use of Rowland's Kalydor, which allays all irritation and tenderness of the skin, removes cutaneous disfigurements, freckles, and tan, and imparts a healthy and blooming appearance to the complexion and skin. During the heat and dust of Summer especially, and in cases of Sunburn and Stings of Insects, it is of the utmost use. Price 4s 6d. and 8s. 6d. per bottle. Askfor "Rowland's Kalydor," and see that their signature is in red ink on every bottle, as theirs is the only genuine.
WHITE AND SOUND TEETH.
Are indispensable to personal attraction and a healthy longevity, by the proper mastication of food. Rowland's Odonto Pearl Dentifrice preserves and imparts a pearl-like whiteness to the teeth, eradicates tartar and spots of incipient decay, strengthens the gums, and gives a pleasing fragrance to the breath. Price 2s. 9d per box. Ask for "Rowland's Odonto," and see that their name is on the Government Stamp of every box.
ROWLAND'S ESSENCE OF TYRE
Never fails to produce imediately a perfect change in Red or Grey Hair, Whiskers Eyebrows, &c., to a beautiful glossy and permanent Brown or Black, which colour remains so durable that neither washing or perspiration can remove it. Price 4s., 7s. 6d, and 10s. 6d per bottle.
All these articles have been used and justly appreciated by all the Sovereigns and Courts of Europe, the Pope of Rome, and the aristocracy of Europe during the last seventy years, being of inestimable value to those who have once used them. They are sold by all Chemists, Perfumers, and Bazaars, throughout India, the Colonies, and South America.

Bristol's sarsaparilla
Is prepared in the most scientific manner, by thoroughly educated chemists and Druggists, who have had many years' experience. It is not a simple extract from one article, but is compounded of extracts from a number of Roots, Herbs Barks, and Leaves, all of which are possessed of some particular virtue or power in curing the diseases that have their source in the blood and humors; these different vegetable extracts are combined in such a way as to retain, in so full strength, the special curative virtue possessed by each. The root of the Sarsaparilla plants found in Honduras, is that which we use in this preparation; it is the kind which all medical men esteem most. About fifty per cent. of Bristol's Sarsagarilla consists of the concentrated extract, the remainder, as above stated being composed of extracts from other powerful, cleansing and healing vehetable substances. It does not contain any thing that is dagerous or injurious to health, and in this, as in nearly every other respect, is entirely different from all other preparations sold under the name of Sarsaparilla.
By having our own agents at the places where the various roots, drugs, herbs and plants, composing our medicines, are produced, we are enabled to exercise that constant care in selection which insures uniformity of excellence, and we spare no money and no effort to procure the best—and only the best—of every article entering into their composition; and it is with the most abiding confidence we say, to be sick of all nations and all countries, that, in Bristol's Sarsaparilla you have a remedy more reliable than any before offered to you, and which will no disappoint you in the cure of.
Salt Rheum. Tetter. Scald Head.
Syphilis, or Veneral Disease.
Nervous and General Debility,
Old Sores, Ulcers, Tumors,
Abscesses, Boils, Eruptions
Scrofula or King's Evil,
Female Derangements,
White Swellings,
Fever and Ague,
Chills and Fever.
& Dumb Ague.
As a means of building up the consititution that has been broken down by the excessive use of Mercury, Iron, or other Minerals, our Sarsaparilla will be found most excellent, and can be administered with safety to the weakest patients. As a purifier of the blood and humors, in the Spring and early Summer, it will the found unfailing. It can be taken freely at seasons, rainy or dry. For some of the above diseases, the use of the Sarsaparilly must be continued a considerable time, especially for those that are hereditary or constitutional in their nature—such as Scrofula: but a faithful compliance with the directions will always relieve and mitigate, and in a great majority of cases will effect a complete cure. It will also be found, in all of the above diseases, that a cure will be greatly hasted by using our Bristol's Sugar-coated Pills, in moderate doses, in connection with the Sarsaparilla; they carry off large quantities of morbific or diseased matter set free in the system by the Sarsaparilla, and in this way facilitate the return to normal fnuctional operations. —o— 46
